

Company Moves, Neighbors Happy

The story has ended happily for both Hiebert Furniture Co. and residents in the vicinity of the site at 171st Street and Yukon Avenue.

Neighbors are happy because Hiebert Furniture is now located in new facilities at 23605 Telo Ave. and Hiebert Furniture officials are content with their new plant site.

The trouble began two years ago when a group of irate neighbors circulated a petition objecting to several conditions at the company. The Hiebert factory had been located on the property before it was rezoned for residential use. The rezoning made the Hiebert outfit a "nonconforming use."

COMPANY officials stated they had done all they could to alleviate the problems, but residents weren't satisfied. They approached the Planning Commission demanding the company be removed and the commission voted to have the company move out before Jan. 1, 1968.

Hiebert said he wouldn't move before July 1, 1969. A complaint was filed in Los Angeles Superior Court in August, 1967, and in June, 1968, Hiebert transferred its entire manufacturing operation to its new location.

Construction of a new apartment house is now under way at the former site.

City Attorney Stanley Remelmeier has filed the dismissal of injunction necessary to terminate the legal proceedings, since an agreement was reached.

CLOSE STREET
The intersection of Crenshaw Boulevard and 182nd Street will be closed off to traffic Sunday for street improvements.

UNDERGOING TESTS . . . A new Renault automobile is pictured here during a new "shaker" test conducted at the Wyle Laboratories in El Segundo. Results of the test will be the key for a new Renault advertising campaign based on the theme "The Solid Car." The vibration test is similar to that conducted to determine the strength of components for jet aircraft and such space vehicles as the Apollo 8 and Saturn 5. The new Renault is on display now at Peninsula Motors, 25308 Crenshaw Blvd., in the Rolling Hills Plaza.

A sugar bowl is a pretty place to hide your valuables, but it's not a safe place from vandals or fire. A Sentry personal safe is amazingly indestructible.
